There seems to be a perception in local government that there isn't much cooperation between the parties, which may feed the 'us v. them' attitude that came through in the community survey.

Vacant retail space, unattractive entry points from I-91 and Rt 5 from Longmeadow as well as the retail corridor between Elm & Hazard.

[Wednesday 7:04 PM] Emmons, Mike (Guest)

There isn't much connecting neighborhoods - the lack of sidewalks/bike lanes can act as barriers between communities like Hazardville and Scitico.

CT River and Scantic River, potential Rail Trail on eastern side of town, vacant retail and industrial building throughout town, develop the Mancuso Park. Redevelop historic building/old schools.

[Wednesday 7:14 PM] Emmons, Mike (Guest)

Enfield has had some opportunities, being in the 'knowledge corridor' for fiber optic / high speed telecommunications loops. With the higher tech industry and medical jumping on this would allow for more opportunity.

Aging population. Must attract new, young families to grow and thrive. Must have amenities to attract and retain them. Must continue to invest in our schools and work hard to promote them. There is a perception that Enfield schools are inferior to our neighboring communities.

[Wednesday 7:23 PM] "\"Gretchen Pfeifer-Hall (Guest)\\""

Industrial zones are accessed by driving through residential areas

[Wednesday 7:24 PM] Driver, Georgienna

Enfield has an aging population and could attract younger families with more attractions, maybe take advantage of the CT River front with new activities like boat rentals or tours, etc. Also maybe add bike lanes to make Enfield closer to being a walkable town another food for thought... Create more Mixed-residential use to aid local business growth....

[Wednesday 7:28 PM] "\"Gretchen Pfeifer-Hall (Guest)\\""

I have given/donated many years to the betterment of Enfield. I will continue to do so, but it does get tiring and frustrating when the public and political factions attack volunteers from all sides of the coin.
